

NYPD Red 2
The NYPD Red Series, Book 2
by James Patterson and Marshall Karp • Read by Eduardo Ballerini and Jay Snyder

NYPD Red hunts a terrifying killer who wants more than blood—he wants to send a message.

NYPD Red is the elite task force called in only for New York City's most high-profile crimes. And Detective Zach Jordan is the best of the best. He puts professionalism above all, ignoring his feelings for his partner, Detective Kylie McDonald. But even with their top-notch training, Zach and Kylie aren't prepared for what they see when they're called to a crime scene in Central Park. They arrive to find a brutally slaughtered woman tied to a carousel and dressed in a Hazmat suit. She is the fourth in a string of shocking murders that have hit the city. As the public pressure mounts, and political and personal secrets of the highest order hang in the balance, Zach and Kylie must find out what's really behind the murderer's rampage.

Magic, Kareem, Riley, and the Los Angeles Lakers Dynasty of the 1980s
by Jeff Pearlman
Read by Malcolm Hillgartner
Simultaneous Release 3/11 • Exclusive

The New York Times bestselling author of Sweetness delivers the first all-encompassing account of the 1980s Los Angeles Lakers, one of professional sports' most-revered—and dominant—dynasties.

The Los Angeles Lakers of the 1980s personified the flamboyance and excess of the decade over which they reigned. They played basketball with pizzazz, and between 1980 and 1991 they won five NBA championships. Showtime is the first full measure of the Lakers' epic Showtime era.

Bark
by Lorrie Moore
Read by Lorrie Moore

Gimlet-eyed social observation, the public and private absurdities of American life, dramatic irony, and enduring half-cracked love wend their way through each of these stories.

These eight stories explore the passage of time and summon up its inevitable sorrows and hilarious pitfalls. In “Debarking,” a newly divorced man tries to keep his wits about him as the United States prepares to invade Iraq, and against this ominous moment, we see the perils of divorce. In “The Juniper Tree,” a teacher, visited by the ghost of her deceased friend, is forced to sing “The Star-Spangled Banner” in a kind of nightmare reunion. And in “Wings,” we watch the unraveling of two once-hopeful musicians who neither held fast to their dreams nor struck out along other paths as Moore deftly depicts the intricacies of dead ends and the workings of regret.

A Sliver of Light
Three Americans Imprisoned in Iran
by Shane Bauer, Josh Fattal, and Sarah Shourd • Reader to be announced

Three young Americans captured by Iranian forces and held in captivity for two years tell their story.

In 2009 Shane Bauer, Josh Fattal, and Sarah Shourd were hiking in Iraqi Kurdistan when they unknowingly crossed into Iran and were captured by a border patrol. Accused of espionage, they were sent to Tehran's infamous Evin Prison, where they found that pooling their strength of will and relying on each other were the only ways to survive. In this poignant memoir, “the hikers” finally tell their story, recounting the deception that lured them into Iran and describing the psychological torment of interrogation and solitary confinement. Told through the interweaving of the authors' three voices, here is a timeless portrayal of hardship and hope.

The Trident Deception
by Rick Campbell • Read by Peter Ganum

In this modern-day Hunt for Red October, an armed nuclear submarine is taken over and must be hunted down before its weapons are launched.

The USS Kentucky, a Trident ballistic missile submarine carrying 192 nuclear warheads, is on a routine cruise when it receives a launch order. Unbeknownst to the crew, the orders didn't come from the US government. Rogue elements within the Mossad have learned that Iran has developed a nuclear weapon and will detonate it in ten days—in Israel. The only option is a preemptive nuclear strike, and they're using the Kentucky to launch the attack. With only eight days before the Kentucky reaches the launch site and no way to communicate with the crew, one senior officer must lead a team to intercept and neutralize the Kentucky before the launch.
