THE FINAL DAY

The One Second After Series, Book 3

by William R. Forstchen

Reader to be announced

After defeating the designs of the alleged federal government, John Matherson and his community have returned their attention to restoring the technologies and social order that existed prior to the EMP attack that plunged the United States into darkness, starvation, and death. The man sent to suppress John is General Bob Scales, John's old commanding officer and closest friend from prewar days. Will General Scales follow orders, or might he be the crucial turning point in the quest for an America that is again united? When news breaks that members of the government knew an EMP attack was coming long before it hit, the government might get what it fears: revolution.

by Marcus Wohlsen
Read by Paul Michael Garcia

In Biopunk, Marcus Wohlsen chronicles biohacking DIY scientists working to solve the world's biggest problems with DNA. Wohlsen also explores risks of bioterrorism, genetic experiments gone awry, and if designing life might come sooner than we think.

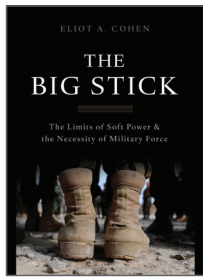

"A reliable point of departure for navigating this contentious new terrain."

The Big Stick

The Limits of Soft Power and the Necessity of Military Force

by Eliot A. Cohen
Reader to be announced

The Big Stick argues that the United States must use military power in support of its foreign policy, but that doing so will be difficult. It must assume primary responsibility for maintaining world order, or risk a chaotic international environment.

"The most eloquent defense of the continued necessity of American hard power you're ever likely to need."

Three Years with Quantrill

A True Story Told by His Scout

by John McCorkle and O. S. Barton
Reader to be announced

This famous memoir by John McCorkle is the best published account by a scout who "rode with Quantrill." John McCorkle was a young Missouri farmer of Southern sympathies. After serving briefly in the pro-Confederate Missouri State Guard, he became a prominent member of William Clarke Quantrill's infamous guerrillas, who took advantage of the turmoil in the Missouri-Kansas borderland to prey on pro-Union people.

Law and Disorder

The Finnegan Connection, Book 1

by Heather Graham
Edited by Kayla King
Read by Saskia Maarleveld

Desperate to escape her kidnappers, Kody Cameron can turn to only one man ... and he's holding a gun. Outnumbered and trapped in the deadly Everglades, she has little recourse, but something in this captor's eyes makes her believe she can trust him. Does she dare to take the risk? Undercover agent Nick Connolly has met Kody before and knows she might very well blow his cover. And his decision to change his own rules of law and order are about to make all hell break loose.

The Warden's Daughter
by Jerry Spinelli
Read by Carrington MacDuffie

From Newbery Medalist Jerry Spinelli comes the story of a girl coming to terms with her mother's death from inside the walls of a prison. But compassion can often be found where we least expect it.

"It's a tapestry of grief and redemption, woven by a master storyteller who never loses his focus on Cammie's personal journey but connects it to Eloda's in a powerful twist. Moving and memorable."
